

GIS Developer

Our company has an opportunity for a talented GIS software developer on our desktop, mobile and web development team.

Our newest employee will have the opportunity to advance their learning of GIS software development and gain real world workforce experience in application design, development, testing and deployment. Please email your resume to us at opportunities@geocove.com.

Job Responsibilities

- Coding and updating application(s) using Esri API and SDK technologies.
- Project work will include GIS analyst functions
- Write documentation (inline) for new software.
- Provide input to test plans, test, debug and integrate code.
- Participate in and contribute to technical reviews and general technology meetings.
- Research and make suggestions for problem solutions and software enhancements.
- Assist in developing and reviewing user manuals and related documentation.
- Assist with testing hardware products or other developer's code.

Required Skills

- Demonstrated proficiency coding in
 - C# or Objective C
 - JavaScript
 - Python
- Ability to think spatially
- Good analysis, evaluation and problem solving skills
- Familiarity with GIS concepts and Esri software
- Ability to troubleshoot and debug code
- Ability to plan for and meet milestones and deadlines
- Good Interpersonal and communication skills; ability to work with a team
- Demonstrating hallmarks of good coding: concision, clarity and capacity

A Strong Plus - Experience with one or more of the following:

- Web services
- HTML5, CSS
- Dojo and Node.js
- COM
- .NET
- SQL Server
- ArcGIS online / Portal
- Source control management tools such as Subversion or GIT